

Disclaimer of Warranty and Limitation of Liability

You agree that the Bank shall to be held liable if you are unable to gain access to the website or the Bank's Online Banking Service from time to time. You understand that some or all of the eStatement Services and/or other system services may not be available at certain times due to maintenance and/or computer, communication, electrical or network failure or any other causes beyond the Bank's control.

We do not and cannot warrant that eStatement Service will operate without error, or that the eStatement Service will be available at all times. Except as specifically provided in this Agreement, or otherwise required by law, you agree that our officers, directors, employees, agents or contractors are not liable for any indirect, incidental, special or consequential damages under or by reason of any services or products provided under the Agreement or by reason of your use of the eStatement Service, including loss of profits, revenue, data or use by your or any third party, whether in an action in contract or tort or based on a warranty or any other legal theory.
